Stennis Field dope smuggling unfolds; Mel Anderson missing, feared dead

By RICH ADAMS

The director and a member of the Hancock County Port and Harbor Commission appeared in U.S. Federal Court in Mobile Monday to testify for the defense in a case involving a July drug smuggling incident at Stennis International Airport in Hancock County.

In addition, Stennis General Manager Nathan Hoda said Wednesday that Mel Anderson, owner of TransAm International which operates Stennis

Field for the commission, has been missing since an alleged October 14 plane crash in Columbia, South America.

Edd Conn, former associate of Anderson's in the airport operation, reportedly said he saw Anderson's plane crash in Columbia, W. W. Webre, commission executive director, said in a press conference Wednesday at the airport.

Conn was an associate in TransAm Corporation with Anderson, which is under contract by the Port and Harbor Commission as fixed-base operators of Stennis Field.

Conn was dropped from the corporation after it was revealed he had been indicted in an arson case in Jonesboro, Arkansas, involving the burning of a helicopter.

Commissioner Fred Curet pointed out Wednesday that he voted against the lease between Hancock County and TransAm because of a personal investigation he made of the principals involved in the company.

Conn was arrested in Hancock County in October for allegedly masterminding a drug smuggling scheme in Thomasville, Ga.

Webre and Curet were subpoenaed to appear in Southern U.S. District Court in Mobile by the defense in a case in which Vance C. Dyer of Mobile is charged in connection with the July

CIA involvement investigated in Stennis marijuana incident

By RICH ADAMS

Allegations that the Central Intelligence Agency was involved in smuggling marijuana into the country through Hancock County have been made in Federal District Court in Alabama.

A defense attorney for five men indicted in a July incident involving Stennis Field here is investigating possible CIA involvement in the case.

According to defense attorney Robert Clark of Mobile, the Federal Court for the Southern District of Alabama has postponed a drug smuggling trial of Vance C. Dyer, defendant accused of conspiracy in an incident involving Stennis International Airport in Hancock County.

Dyer is charged with "possession of marijuana with intent to sell; attempt to conspire, importation of a controlled substance, and possession of a controlled substance on board an aircraft and vehicle arriving or departing from the United States," according to William Taylor, deputy clerk of the Federal Court.

The charges stem from a July 20 incident involving transportation of six tons of marijuana into Stennis International Airport aboard a DC-4.

The marijuana was then transferred to a truck and transported to Mobile, Ala., where law enforcement officials confiscated the marijuana.

U.S. District Judge Virgil Pittman postponed the case to allow Clark to investigate possible CIA involvement with the transport of the marijuana.

According to Clark, a government witness told the court during testimony a CIA agent was involved with the scheme.

"The CIA is conducting an in-house investigation of possible involvement," Clark said Tuesday.

Clark alleged that the CIA was involved with the government of a South American country in transporting the marijuana.

Clark said he is investigating the CIA

Bay burglary nets $3,500

By LESLIE WILLIAMS

Approximately $3,500 in merchandise and cash, including two burglar alarm horns, was taken Monday from the Crown Equipment Company on Washington Street near Hwy. 90, Bay St. Louis Police Chief Douglas Williams reported.

Culprits cut through chain on a rear gate surrounding the company and entered an office door after breaking glass, stated investigating officer David Sellar.

Nine chain saws valued at approximately $2,500 were taken in the burglary.

A Mahita Drill, desk calculator, two fluorescent lamps, two burglar alarm horns and approximately $100 in cash were stolen in the burglary, police said.

Total loss of property was estimated at $3,500.

The company's shop foreman, Jay Eagan, reported the incident which remains under investigation, stated Chief Williams.

involvement himself, and hopes to prove his clients are not part of a conspiracy.

Clark said Judge Pittman has postponed the trial until mid-January to allow time for the investigation.

Dyer was arrested by agents of the Drug Enforcement Administration in Mobile, Ala., on August 4, and is presently free on a $10,000 bond, U. S. District Court Deputy Clerk William Taylor said.

Willard Rutledge, an agent for the Drug Enforcement Agency in Mobile said allegations of CIA intervention in the case were made in court, but added Clark had "nothing concrete."

The allegations were made in court yesterday," said Rutledge Tuesday.

"The defense attorney claims individuals were employed by the CIA, but we have found nothing concrete to support this," he added.

A spokesman for Judge Pittman said the judge has postponed the trial of the Farmers eligible

Hancock County and four others in Mississippi have been certified as emergency loan areas by the U.S. Agriculture Department.

Farmers in Clarke, George, Hancock, Rankin and Tate counties will be eligible to receive low-interest federal loans to recover from drought conditions, USDA said.

The loans are primarily for damage caused to crops and pastureland by the drought between May and November. The loans provide up to $250,000 at three percent interest to offset actual losses. Amounts in excess of actual losses needed to restore production are available at 8.5 percent interest.

The emergency loans will be made to qualified farmers who lack other sources of credit to cover their losses.

The deadline for filing for physical losses is Aug. 15, 1979, and the deadline for filing for production losses is Nov. 19, 1979. The loans will be administered through the Farmers Home Administration.

Investigators seek arsonist in Bay High gymnasium fire

By LESLIE WILLIAMS

Evidence of arson was discovered at Bay Senior High School gymnasium where a deliberately set fire scorched floor, wall and ceiling behind a section of bleachers Wednesday morning.

"This fire is a case of arson," said Bay St. Louis Fire Chief Richard Fayard.

The chief said the fire started about 7:30 a.m. The Bay Fire Department received notification of the fire via the Waveland Fire Department at approximately 8:03 a.m.

Bay St. Louis Fire Department's Central Dispatch said the Waveland department received a phone call on the fire from an "unidentified male, apparently a passerby."

Firemen at the scene said Ernestine Betts, a Bay High employee, also reported the fire to the Waveland Fire Department at 8:09 a.m. after being informed "something was wrong in the gym" by an unidentified female student.

Firemen discovered a burnt spot in an area at the top of home side bleachers, with the outer edges of the damaged place showing signs of melted wax.

Fayard said the damaged portion of the structure was connected by a trail of "petroleum liquid" to a notebook which was still burning when firemen arrived.

The inflammable liquid also ran onto the ceiling of a storage area below and behind the bleachers.

Fayard said he assumes an arsonist planted a large lighted candle near the notebook and poured a trail of petroleum liquid to the notebook so that

Asphalt issue passed, claims North Bay PTO

By RICH ADAMS

The North Bay Parent-Teacher Organization claims the Bay St. Louis Municipal Separate School Board actually passed a motion on November 13 when it voted on a proposal to asphalt the North Bay Elementary playground.

At a November 13 school board meeting, Board Member Robert Hamilton moved to use surplus asphalt from a project at Bay Senior High School to asphalt basketball courts and anchor swing sets in the elementary school playground.

The motion came as the result of pressure from the North Bay PTO, a group which has been actively seeking for improvements at North Bay Elementary.

Board members Hamilton and Maurice Singleton voted for the motion, but Walter Turcotte, Dr. John Levens, and Board President Virginia Gex all abstained from voting on the issue.

Members of the PTO claim the motion passed by a 2-0 vote, and the playground must be improved as stated in the motion.

In a letter to the board, PTO members quote "Roberts Rules of Order," a book explaining meeting procedures and rules used by organizations and governmental bodies such as the school board.

"Apparently the Board felt the motion failed, as the matter of the playground was pushed aside for further business," the PTO's letter read.

"We would like to inform the Board that this motion passed. See Roberts Rules of Order, Section 6-Voting..." the letter continued.

The PTO then quoted the section on voting in the rule book, which states, "While it is the duty of every member who has an opinion on the question to express it by his vote, yet he cannot be compelled to do so. He may prefer to abstain from voting, though he knows the effect is the same as if he voted on the prevailing side."

The PTO claims this stipulation on voting means the asphalt motion was passed by a 2-0 vote.

Also in the letter to the board, the PTO quotes Mississippi Attorney General A. F. Summers, who expressed his opinion in an issue of the Mississippi Municipalities magazine.

"...If the members present desire to defeat a measure, they must vote against it, for inaction will not accomplish their purpose; their silence is acquiescence rather than opposition," Summers writes.

"Under this view a blank ballot is not to be considered in estimating the total number of votes cast for a measure or office, and the grounds assigned for the refusal to vote are not material," he concludes.

Board President Gex said although she is not sure the board members were aware their abstentions meant favorable votes, she said she has been advised of the attorney general's opinion.

Ms. Gex said she hopes to have the improvements made on the elementary and senior high school grounds during the Christmas season.

She added nothing is concrete as to how or when the projects will be completed.

Board Member Hamilton said he is sure the board knew the issue passed. He said the Bay St. Louis City Council has the final say as to whether surplus asphalt from the high school can be used for the North Bay improvements, and said he doesn't believe the council has approved the job yet.

"We have to do something to improve the situation," Hamilton said Tuesday. "If we cannot get the city to approve the job with the surplus, we will have to apply for bids on the job," he continued.

"We need plans and specifications drawn up before we can do a thing. We can't advance without plans, and plans are expensive," he added.

A spokesman from Bay St. Louis Mayor Larry Bennett's office said the council has not approved any project for asphalt at the North Bay playground.

Bay St. Louis School Superintendent J. D. McCullough said he could not comment on the playground issue, as he was not a voting member of the board. "I must work with the board," McCullough said.

Hancock AA among 100 state chapters

Early in 1945, Alcoholics Anonymous came to Mississippi when three members who had found sobriety in the fellowship in Washington, D.C. moved to Jackson and started a group there.

A few months later, a few members from around the Delta formed a group in Greenwood. Today the State has approximately 100 groups located in almost every county, including Hancock, and an alcoholic seeking help with his or her drinking problem may find it not far away.

Anonymity is the very foundation of this loosely-knit organization and is responsible for much of its growth. No member ever reveals the name of another to anyone outside of A.A.

Many movements were started to try to help the alcoholic long before the beginning of A.A., but none of them ever showed better than a 2 percent recovery among victims of this widely prevalent illness.

Yet from its inception, Alcoholics Anonymous reported that approximately half of its members never drank again, and another 25 percent eventually attained and maintained sobriety.

There are no dues for A.A. membership. The only requirement for membership is a desire to stay sober. Through the fellowship's twelve steps of a suggested program of recovery, more than a million men and women have found the way to a sane and useful life, after being considered helpless and hopeless.

The writer of this article, an alcoholic and a former newspaper man, came into A.A. in 1945, and has never had another drink.

The more than a million sober members give ample proof that A.A. will work, is an alcoholic wants to stay sober.

Anyone wanting information on how to contact the nearest group or member, may call 467-6414.

HNC sponsors aide training

The Title I Project of Hancock County Schools sponsored a reading inservice training workshop for Title I aides.

Conducted by Miss Mary Ann Baird, state reading supervisor, the inservice program emphasized an individualized approach to reading instruction with positive support for each pupil.

Miss Baird praised Hancock County Title I programmed tutorial reading instruction, pointing out that the tutorial approach individualizes instruction while praising pupils for success.

Miss Baird explained that the teacher unfortunately has too little time for the problem reader who requires individual instruction.

Through a method of programmed tutoring, pupils may progress at their own rates with the help of Title I aides who work under the direction of the classroom teachers.

Miss Baird also discussed a trend to parent intervention programs.

Teaching parents ways to help children become more academically and socially responsible facilitates the total educational process, she said.

Miss Baird will be the keynote speaker for the Title I parent advisory councils at Hancock County Schools Dec. 12 and 13.

Members of the Title I advisory councils will receive special announcements with details of this planned meeting in which Miss Baird will suggest specific ways a parent might help a child with reading improvement.

Hawks lose thriller to Rosedale

By ELLIS CUEVAS
The Hawks of Hancock North Central were defeated by the Rosedale Eagles 28-21 Saturday night in the Wendell Ladner Memorial Bowl.

The outcome of the contest went down to the wire as Rosedale scored with only 58 seconds left in the contest and the Hawks were driving for a score as the clock ran out.

Rosedale's head coach Leland Young had high praises for the Hawks as the game ended by saying, "Hancock North Central was by far the best team we have played during the past two seasons."

Rosedale went undefeated for two seasons, sporting a 20-0 record for the two seasons and were ranked 13th in Mississippi's high schools this season. Irvin Favre, Hawks coach said they were the highest ranked football his Hawks has ever played.

"We played a good football game, the Hawks gave it their all tonight. I am disappointed with the small turnout of the fans. We should have filled the stadium and we had the smallest turnout of the season."

Rosedale had almost as many supporters as we did and it was a five hour drive for them," Favre commented.

In summing up Rosedale Favre said, "The Eagles were the quickest team we have seen this season."

Rosedale was the first to get on the score board after a 0-0 first quarter. The Eagles took over on their own 19 and on their eleventh play of the drive Yervin Williams went in on a three yard run. A two point conversion by Manuel Gray put the Eagles ahead 8-0 with 3:48 left in the second stanza.

The fired up Hawks came back after the kick-off and drove 60 yards in five plays with Vincent Adams hitting David Clark with a 31 yard score. A two point conversion pass from Adams to Greg Ladner tied the score at 8-8 with 1:36 left in the first half.

Clark also caught a 14 yard pass in the drive for the Hawks first score.

The Eagles' Clarence Price recovered a Hawks fumble on North Central's 37 yard line and on their sixth play Williams scored his second TD of the game on a two yard run. The try for two on the conversion was missed giving the Eagles a 16-8 lead with 7:54 left in the third quarter.

The Hawks came right back with a scoring drive covering 67 yards in 11 plays climaxed by an Adams six yard pass to Jesse Drame. The PA by Drame put the Hawks in the lead for the first time in the contest 15-14 with 3:21 left in the third quarter.

The Hawks came back and scored after a Eagle punt on a Willie Santiago ten yard run. Three key pass catches from Adams to Clark covered most of the scoring drive. The PA was missed extending the Hawks lead to 21-14. The Eagles started to move mid-way in the fourth quarter on some fine passes from quarterback Phillips Leaks to Manuel Gray, who scored on a five yard run with 7:04 left in the contest cutting the lead to 21-20.

Gray scored with only 58 seconds putting Rosedale in the lead 28-21 after a two point conversion.

The offensive player of the game went to Manuel Gray of Rosedale. The defensive player of the game was shared by Richard Storey Hawk tackle and David Clark split end and defensive back.

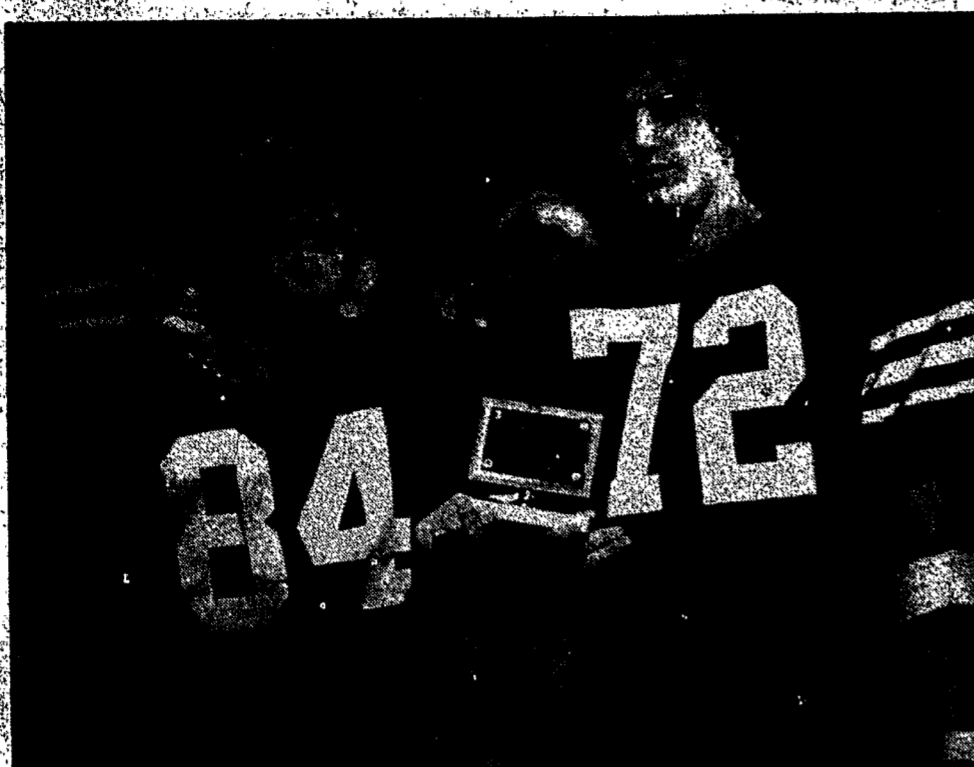

Clark was outstanding in line play making several solo stops and putting pressure on the Eagle rushers. Clark made several last man tackles and broke up two beautiful passes in addition to scoring two Hawk TD's in catching seven passes.

The Hawks led in first downs 15-14, the Eagles had 231 to 142 yards in rushing and Adams completed 10 of 15 passes to give the Hawks a 167-129 edge in passing yardage.

Coach Favre said, "The entire Hawk team needs to be commended for a very fine performance, we made very few mistakes. Of course we didn't win and that hurts, but our boys did a very fine job. Rosedale has to be commended on a very fine performance by their team. The 13th ranking in the state is justified."

The Hawks ended this season 9-3.

MOST VALUABLE DEFENSIVE PLAYERS—Richard Storey, No. 72 and David Clark, No. 84 were chosen co-defensive player of the Wendell Ladner Memorial Bowl. The two seniors have been standouts all season for the Hancock North Central Hawks.

MOST VALUABLE OFFENSIVE PLAYER—C.J. Cameron, chairman for the North Hancock Jaycees Annual Wendell Ladner Memorial Bowl presents the most valuable award to Rosedale's Manuel Gray. Gray scored two touchdowns and ran for over 1000 yards for Rosedale's Hawks this season. Rosedale scored with 58 seconds left to edge the Hawks 28-21. (Staff photo-Ellis Cuevas).

Ole Miss hosts MSU Saturday

The Rebels will play host to the Mississippi State Bulldogs in Mississippi Memorial Stadium in Jackson. Kickoff Saturday is set for 1:30 p.m.

Ole Miss was defeated by Tennessee 41-17 before 83,210 fans in Knoxville, last week. Mississippi State defeated the LSU Tigers 16-14 before more than 44,000 fans in Jackson. Ole Miss has won four and lost six. Mississippi State has won six, lost four.

"The Bulldogs are blessed with uncommon team speed and excellent athletes in the skill positions. Dave Marler is a fine passer and he has some great receivers to work with," Rebel head coach Steve Sloan said.

Kicking specialist Hoppy Langley needs only one field goal to tie the Ole Miss season record for field goals of 10. He stands 9-16 on the year. The record is held by both Steve Lavinghouse who had 10 in 1975 and Jimmy Keyes who set the record with 10 in 1966.

Gulfview boys win tournament

The Gulfview Elementary seventh-and-eighth-grade boy's basketball team swept the field in the Gulfview Invitational Seventh-and-Eighth-Grade Tournament last week, defeating Liana in the final game Saturday by a score of 55-48.

Curtis Thaxton, head coach for the Bulldog cagers, called the tournament "exceptional."

"Friday just seven points separated the winner from the losers in the semi-finals," coach Thaxton said.

Gulfview defeated Liana in the final game Saturday, with three Bulldogs scoring in double figures.

Phillip Seay netted 22 points, Mark Santella put 15 through the hoop, and Kevin James added 12.

Seay was commended by coach Thaxton for his 76 points overall in the four-day competition.

In girls' competition, Liana outplayed Pineville to claim a 27-14 victory in the ladies' basketball tournament.

In an earlier game, Liana out Gulfview's girl squad from the finals in a 27-14 defeat.

High scores for Liana was Lavette Kline with 27 points, and Gulfview's star was Cecile Ladner, with 16 of the total 44 points.

Coach Thaxton commented on the fine turnout of fans that supported the Bulldogs in the Invitational.

"I would like to thank all who came out and helped support our teams to their fine showings," said Thaxton.

Opinion/Ellis Cuevas

Put away the oblong ball and get out the round one!

As the football season has officially ended locally with the Wendell Ladner Memorial Bowl Saturday night, now is the time for sports fans to start supporting basketball.

We are in for a real treat this season with the introduction of the Holiday High School Tournament on the Coast involving 32 boys teams, the brain storm of J. Roland Ladner, veteran high school coach.

Coach Ladner, whose teams have gone all the way to the top in state tournaments, should be commended for his concentrated efforts to bring this fine tournament together.

Some of the games are scheduled to be played in the Bay High Tiger Dome, which will enable us to see some action right here at home.

There will also be the annual Bay High Basketball Tournament as well as the regular games between the area schools which need participation by students and supporters of the schools.

Basketball players, like football players, need encouragement from the fans. If the fans come out in great numbers, in all probability each player will know he is backed by his fellow students and supporters of his school and will give a more concentrated effort to win.

Sports activities in our local schools do not and should not die out with the end of the football season. Enthusiasm should carry over into basketball, track, tennis, baseball, volleyball and what ever other sporting activities are offered by our schools.

We realize being a gladiator is not the primary reason for students attending school, but it is a part of an overall education.

It is an education to a degree just like it is for those who are unable to participate in a sport they learn by attending the various games and cheering their favorites to victory.

When students participate in sports they have less time after school hours to get involved in mischief. Now we are not saying all sports participants don't get involved in mischief, but the percentage of them that do is far lower than the students who don't participate in any sport.

Of course there are other activities in which students can be involved, such as glee club, debating teams, etc.

Like sports, these all tend to help in a student having an all around education.

The thing we need today is for more students to become more involved in the activities offered by their various schools. There is something for everyone, no matter what their taste.

Like we say, it is time to put up the oblong ball and get out the round ball. It is now the season of basketball. If you are a student and do not play, you can still help your school by attending the games.

Of course a big help can come from the parents going to the games as well as fellow students.

In closing we will let you ask yourself this question: When was the last time you saw a high school basketball game?

The Bay St. Louis Post Office will be closed for Thanksgiving Thursday, and will reopen Friday and Saturday for regular hours.

BROKEN CUSTOMS SEAL—The U.S. Customs Department seal is broken on the doors of this DC-4, used in July to transport six tons of marijuana into Stennis International Airport in Hancock County. TransAm General Manager Nathan Hoda, in charge of the airport, said officials from the Customs Department broke the seal earlier this week. (Staff photo-Rich Adams)

Smuggling...

Stennis Field smuggling incident.

Webre said he and Curet went to Mobile to appear in the court case, but U.S. District Court Judge Virgil Pittman postponed the case until January on request of the defense.

The trial stems from a July 24 incident at Stennis Field in which six tons of marijuana arrived aboard a DC-4, presumably from a South American country.

The marijuana was transferred to a semi-truck and transported to Mobile, where Alabama Drug Enforcement Agents confiscated the cache of marijuana.

U.S. DEA agents reportedly kept the Stennis Field transfer operation under surveillance at that time, and followed the truck on its route to Alabama.

According to U.S. Attorney William Kimbrough, Conn was an informant for the DEA and has supplied the government with information on the Stennis incident.

Kimbrough added he knows nothing about Conn's involvement in the Georgia drug scheme.

According to Hoda, Anderson left New Orleans on October 13 via commercial jet to Miami, Florida to obtain a plane and deliver the plane to owners of a restaurant chain in Venezuela, South America.

Hoda said Anderson flew to San Juan, Puerto Rico on his way to Venezuela. Anderson never arrived at the South American destination, Hoda said, adding that Conn and Hancock County resident Joe Haas, a pilot for a South American airline, allegedly saw Anderson's plane crash in Columbia.

The news of Anderson's disappearance was not released earlier, according to Webre, because Anderson's wife was told by federal officials not to disclose the disappearance. She was supposedly told if Anderson was known to be missing in Columbia, Colombian officials would have him assassinated, Hoda explained.

Webre said he had no proof, but believes foul play is involved in Anderson's disappearance.

"I'm keeping an open mind on this matter," said Webre.

"I can speculate on what has happened...Anderson is not deceased," he continued.

"I think he was just told to do a disappearing act. But I cannot prove this," he added.

Hancock County Sheriff Sylvan Ladner's Chief Deputy Ronnie Peterson said there are many unanswered questions in Anderson's disappearance.

"Where is the body? We're investigating the possibility of foul play in this. It is still a mystery...a lot of things don't add up," Peterson said.

Webre said he talked with Conn in October while Conn was in the Hancock County Jail awaiting extradition on the Georgia drug charges.

"When Conn was in jail, I talked to him. He said Anderson was dead," Webre said.

"Conn told me he worked for the DEA, and he was in Columbia at the same time Anderson was," he continued.

"Conn said his mission in Columbia was with the DEA," Webre added.

Conn allegedly told Webre the DEA allows marijuana smugglers to bring the drugs into the country two times with informants, the DEA keeping the marijuana smugglers under constant surveillance.

Conn told Webre the DEA arrests smugglers on the third attempt to import drugs in an attempt to insure the secrecy of its informants' identity.

"This whole thing is very cloak and dagger," Webre said.

Webre added that Conn told him in the jail, "If the DEA doesn't spring me out of the Hancock County Jail, I'll blow the lid off the whole thing."

Webre denied Anderson's involvement in drug smuggling, and added no one at Stennis under contract with the county had any knowledge of the marijuana scheme.

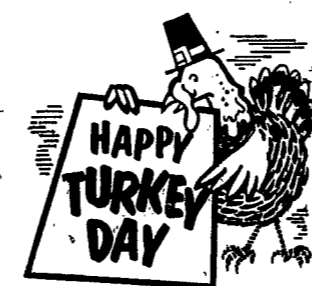

"Anderson dismissed Conn from the airport after Conn was suspected of involvement in the drug incident," Webre said.

"Mel Anderson's intentions at the airport were good. I believe Conn and Haas tried to get Anderson involved in future drug incidents," Webre added.

According to Hoda, Anderson was approached by an unknown party who allegedly tried to "buy Anderson out."

Webre, along with Chief Deputy Peterson, said nationally syndicated columnist Jack Anderson had been in contact with them seeking information on the incident.

Peterson said an investigation is being conducted into the involvement of other Hancock County residents who might have had illegal dealings at Stennis.

five men "to allow the CIA to find out if agents are involved in South America."

"The judge conferred with the parties and the defense claimed the CIA was involved," said the spokesman.

"The judge will wait until a determination is made and an investigation of the CIA's involvement in the conspiracy is researched," the judge's office reported.

"The defense has a theory of governmental involvement," he added.

"The defense is just not happy without the investigation," the spokesman said. Pittman met in private with CIA representative Richard Rininger, who said the investigation into his agency involvement would take at least a week.

He added more time would be necessary to determine if the information could be released to the court.

Prosecutor William Kimbrell of Mobile said Judge Pittman also postponed the trial because of difficulties with the jury.

A spokesman for the judge verified the delay, saying some members of the jury appeared to be biased in the case.

The trial is expected to reopen in January 1979.

Resident lauds fire fighters

Dear Sir:

We would like to take this opportunity to thank all the men and the Fire Departments who worked so hard to save our home and the homes of our neighbors from fire Sunday night.

When a grass fire got out of hand and seemed that all the houses would go up in flames, these wonderful men from Lakeshore Clermont Harbor and goodness knows where else, worked side by side to protect property and life.

The people from Lakeshore and Clermont Harbor should thank God for such wonderful friends and neighbors who do care what happens to them.

Again we thank each and every one of you who worked so hard and may God bless you.

when the candle melted down, the notebook would catch fire.

The fire chief added he is speculating, and will await the results of a State Fire Marshal's investigation before citing exact cause of the fire.

The area behind the home team bleacher section was on fire when Firemen Alphonse Sheppard and Ronald Cuevas entered the building.

While Cuevas and Sheppard were evacuating students and checking for possible spread of the blaze, Fireman Gerald Price III and Fire Captain Mike Willumitis began prying a ceiling board loose that was partially on fire behind the bleachers.

The firemen put the small smoldering fire out with a cup of water followed by contents of a fire extinguisher minutes later.

The firemen said use of a chemical extinguisher on a fire that small would be unnecessarily messy.

Bay St. Louis Police Chief Douglas Williams also joined the investigation.

Fayard told Bay High School Assistant Principal Frank Ladner the initials D.W. and D.F. were found on sheets in the notebook.

"I think I can trace it down," replied Ladner.

Fayard said the fire had the potential for causing serious damage to the gymnasium if it had not been reported as quickly as it was.

Damage was estimated at $200.

The last fire at Bay Senior High was about a year ago, which was started by an electrical mishap, recalled Fayard.

Health Tips

Those of us who are responding to energy conservation pleas by keeping home temperatures somewhat lower this winter are likely to stay somewhat healthier than those who continue to overheat their dwellings.

The American Medical Association reminds that temperatures in the mid-60s are healthier than temperatures in the mid-70s.

Heating the interior of homes and offices during the winter removes moisture from the air. The higher the temperature, the dryer the air. Air with little moisture aggravates bronchial and respiratory problems. It contributes to dry throat and nose, coughs, and dry, itchy skin.

The respiratory system doesn't cope well with sudden changes in temperature.

Moving from an overly heated room into outside cold affects the body adversely, causing coughs and respiratory problems. The body adjusts to temperature changes gradually.

There are no major health advantages inherent in keeping inside temperature somewhat lower, but there are minor advantages that will add to comfort and well-being during the winter.

If the air inside your home is very dry even with reduced temperature levels, you might consider using a humidifier to add moisture.

Mr. and Mrs. Rufus LaFontaine are shown accepting delivery of their new Chevrolet Pickup from Turan-Lane Chevrolet salesman Hak Doyle.

"We were looking to purchase a new pickup truck. We shopped around and talked to Hak Doyle at Turan-Lane Chevrolet. Checking over the large selection of trucks at Turan-Lane Chevrolet we found the type of pickup and color we were interested in purchasing. We like the professional and friendly way everyone treated us at Turan-Lane Chevrolet."

USM Gulf Park seeking expansion

The Gulf Park campus of the University of Southern Mississippi in Long Beach is seeking increases in funding for extension work, resident centers, and off-campus degree centers, the Board of Trustees announced.

The board is requesting a

103 percent increase in funding for extension work and resident centers and a 118 percent increase for off-campus degree centers of regional campuses statewide, the board explained.

The reason for the increase was explained to some 30 area legislators and alumni representing all eight of the state universities at an Inter-Alumni Meeting at Gulf Park on Nov. 17, hosted by USM.

The percentage increases were explained to some 30 area legislators and alumni representing all eight of the state universities at an Inter-Alumni Meeting at Gulf Park on Nov. 17, hosted by USM.

The percentage increases were explained to the group by USM vice-president for administration and regional campuses, Dr. Shelby Thames.

"There was a feeling among many people in the State that the regional campuses would drain the students from the parent campuses and we would establish a competitive posture. We developed a student profile of these non-traditional students to determine if we were, indeed, taking students from our main campuses. We found that we were not doing that," Thames said.

"We are talking about an individual who doesn't want or can not move and go to Oxford, Hattiesburg or Cleveland. They have to take education in their community and that is what we are doing with non-traditional education, we are taking it to the people," Thames said.

A general support request of $126,806,229 will be made to the Legislature by the Board of Trustees when the session opens in January. Of this total request $1,288,858 is earmarked for extension and resident centers and $4,500,036 for off-campus degree centers (regional campuses).

Other areas of funding in the package are interest funds, libraries, plan of compliance, nursing schools, nursing continuing education, Gulf Coast Research Laboratory and Sea Grant Matching funds.

Furr leads scholarship competition

Sara Furr has won the Century III Leaders scholarship competition at Coast Episcopal High School, according to Dr. Paul Shafer, headmaster.

The 17-year old senior is now eligible to compete with other high school seniors throughout Mississippi for two $1,500 scholarships, two $500 scholarships, and also for a $10,000 national scholarship that will be awarded in a conference of state winners in Colonial Williamsburg, Virginia.

Ms. Furr triumphed in the local phase of the Century III Leaders program, a scholarship competition which emphasizes future concerns of America.

Students were judged on the basis of their leadership abilities, community involvement and score on a current events examination.

To compete at the state level, Ms. Furr has written a brief projection outlining what she thinks is one of America's future challenges and how it should be met.

Ms. Furr is the daughter of Dr. and Mrs. Richard Furr of Ocean Springs.

The two Mississippi winners will receive an all-expense-paid trip to the third annual Century III National Leadership Seminar in Williamsburg, March 1-6, 1979, to participate in seminars on current issues.

In previous years, speakers at these seminars were such notables as news commentator Howard K. Smith, architect-futurist Buckminster Fuller, and anthropologist Rene Dubos.

The program is administered by the National Association of Secondary Schools Principals and funded by Shell Oil Company.

ADMISSIONS VISIT—Lucy Bowen, admissions counselor at Mississippi College, will be visiting schools and churches in the Bay St. Louis area during the coming week. Preparing for the visits she looks over a list of prospective students with Steve Longo of Bay St. Louis who is presently enrolled at the College. Miss Bowen is interested in talking with students about their college careers and specifically about programs offered at Mississippi College.

Infant product rules proposed

The U.S. Consumer Product Safety Commission (CPSC) recently approved a proposal regulating the sale of toys and other products designed for children under the age of three.

According to Paul Rankin of the Mississippi State Board of Health, the purpose of the proposal is to reduce the risk of injury to children in this age group as they are particularly prone to injuries and deaths from choking on, swallowing or inhaling small parts on toys.

In a special study done by CPSC, it was determined that almost half of an estimated 3,800 injuries of this type from Dec. 1976 to Feb. 1977 were to those children under three-years-old. Out of 45 deaths involving children's products, 23 were to children younger than three.

The proposal would require eighteen major categories of toys and other articles to pass a test which would screen out small parts that could fit into a child's mouth or nose.

The regulations would apply to such children's items as squeeze toys, blocks, stuffed toys, teething rings, exercisers, etc. Any item of this sort would automatically be banned from sale because of its small size if it fits entirely into a truncated cylinder measuring 1 1/4 inches in diameter by 2 1/4 inches in depth. Any part that came off a toy after it was given simulated rough treatment to see if it would break and expose a hazard would also be subjected to testing along with the cylinder. It, too, would be banned if it fit completely within the device.

According to CPSC, only a small portion of toys and other children's items would have to be redesigned to comply with the proposed regulations. This is probably because the Trade Association Toy Manufacturers of America has set voluntary standards that incorporate safety requirements similar to the CPSC proposal. TAM members produce about 90 percent of the dollar volume of all domestically sold toys.

The proposed rules would not cover items intended for use by children older than three. Nor would they apply to household items that the toddlers might have access to.

Articles such as children's clothing and accessories, modeling clay, fingerpaints, marbles, balloons and crayons would be exempted from coverage by the proposal because of their utilitarian or education value.

If finalized, these newly proposed rules will join a series of other regulations designed to increase children's safety. These include regulations to identify sharp points and edges on toys for children younger than eight, safety requirements for pacifiers to prevent infant chokings and safety regulations for electrical toys.

These regulations also include a mandatory safety standard for cribs, a ban on any toys and furniture coated with paint containing more than 0.06 percent lead, and a ban on small baby rattles. CPSC is currently studying technical reports to examine possible regulation of projectile toys.

The rules for small parts on toys will be published shortly in the federal register for a 60-day comment period. The regulations will take effect 6-12 months after a final federal register notice is published. Comments should be sent to: Office of the Secretary, CPSC, 111 18th St., N.W., Washington, D.C. 20207.

For further information, contact Paul Rankin at 354-6616.
